PROJECTS

Distribution Management System (DMS)

The Banglalink Distribution Management System (DMS) is a web-based application that manages supply chain and logistics activities, including warehouse inventory and distributor management. It offers role-based access, report viewing, and export, with API integration from Ericsson. The technology stack includes C#, .NET Framework 4.7, Oracle, ADO.NET, and Entity Framework.

Advance Pro

Advance Pro is an Inventory Management System built with C#, ASP.NET Core Web API, SQL Server 2018, Entity Framework Core, and stored procedures.

DataImporter

In this project, users can create accounts and groups to upload Excel data, which is processed by a worker service and stored in a SQL Server database. Users can confirm the data before uploading, and the stored data is automatically deleted after completion. Additionally, data can be re-exported into an Excel file. The technology stack includes C#, ASP.NET Core, Bootstrap, Entity Framework, Docker, and reCAPTCHA v2.

DevTeam

This application allows companies to create accounts for employee management. Employees can apply for leave and allowances, while company admins or managers can approve these requests. It is built with ASP.NET Core, Bootstrap, Entity Framework, SQL Server 2019, Docker, and reCAPTCHA v3
